2. There are four Italian 175/13 guns on the islands.
3. Contact with the mainland is maintained by two motor launches named RADNIK 7 and RADNIK 8. These are reported to have belonged originally to the Italian Rex lines.
4. There is a powerful radio (described as a field transmitter) on the Islands which maintains communications with Dignano. This is probably located at Punta Peneda and has only been operating since the beginning of August. It is also in radio contact with a station at Altura.
